crimes.

Some time see The Herald had occasion to comment upon the fact that crimes against the chastity of women in this state were visited with light punishment. Since there several of our country contemporaries have drawn attention to the same thing. The light seniences imposed in these cases make it paintuity evident that those who impose them regard such crimes lightly. Those who regard such crimes lightly will not be apt to hold family ties very sarred, and when they are not held mored the very foundation of society is being sarped.
